

Protestants cope through prayer more than other religions percent of households prayed

