

Mobile phone ownership has increased 41% in Ethiopia between 2012 and 2014.
But who owns the phones, and where?

Mobile phones become the dominant commodity across the wealth spectrum.
Percent ownership per household

Even though ownership has increased, gains lag for the poor, elderly, and female-headed households.

